Assessment of Associate of Arts Degree Program Learning Objectives (PLOs)

Introduction

The Associate of Arts (AA) degree is offered face-to-face on campus in Springdale, Arkansas, and also via EC online. The required curriculum in this program is also required for other associate and baccalaureate degrees at EC. Unless otherwise indicated, the number of students reported for each measure represents 100% of enrollment for each course.

Ecclesia College prepares and enables graduates and alumni to achieve competence in seven broad areas: Biblical Worldview & Faith, Critical & Creative Thinking, Effective Communication, Integrity, Leadership, Lifelong Learning, and Service & Stewardship. Students seeking an AA degree will also be prepared to demonstrate competency in three programmatic areas:

Program Learning Objective 1: Biblical Values & Interpretive Skills

Ecclesia College graduates will evidence knowledge of biblical values and beginning scriptural interpretive skills.

Instrument Measures. (1) BIBL 1350 Mentoring Foundations: Grids for Life & Learning Twelve Weekly Assignments; (2) STDV 2300 Ethical Decisions in the Work Place Oral Presentation #2; (3) BIBL 1340 Biblical Worldview (BW) Personal Worldview Position Paper; (4) BIBL 1340 Biblical Worldview (BW) Final Worldview Project Oral Presentation; (5) Bible/Theology Supporting Course Results.

Measure #1: The Mentoring Foundations: Grids for Life & Learning course is an institutional requirement for all EC degrees. It serves as an introduction to basic biblical beliefs and practical Christ-like living. Students begin the semester by sharing their personal testimonies in class and then complete twelve assignments which serve to solidify knowledge of biblical values and reinforce scriptural interpretive skills.

The benchmark for the twelve assignments is 80% of students to earn 75% or higher collectively over these twelve assignments.

Result: The benchmark was met by an aggregate number of 87 students completing this measure with an average score greater than 75%.

Measure #2: Ethical Decisions in the Work Place Oral Presentations #2. To establish a firm biblical and moral basis for decision-making, this course establishes how the Ten Commandments apply to specific moral situations. Students are required to give three oral presentations, the second of which concerns itself with using the same rubric as the first and serves as a comparison with the first to determine if the student is developing in their identity and clarity of understanding in Christ. Also, this artifact helps the professor to determine if students are formulating a biblical worldview.

The benchmark is an aggregate of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the assignment.

*Note: This was the COVID-19 outbreak semester and all EC courses went to an electronic delivery mode of instruction after spring break.

Result: The benchmark was met by student aggregate scores in five of six sections of the course offerings between Fall of 2019 and Spring 2022, which represents a completion rate of 83.3%. The 83.3% average is greater than the minimum 75% College benchmark; therefore, this benchmark measure is deemed met.

Measure #3: BW Personal Worldview Position Paper

Students are asked to write a 1500-2000 word Personal Worldview Position Paper using a minimum of three sources to develop and articulate their worldview based on Scripture. The paper must also reflect the Bible-based worldview application to our contemporary culture.

The benchmark is an aggregate of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the assignment.

Result: The benchmark was met by an aggregate number of 118 students completing this measure with an average score greater than 75%.

Measure #4: BW Final Worldview Project Oral Presentation

Students are asked to select a current topic to research in order to make a PowerPoint presentation of at least 5 slides and a 10 minute presentation to go along with the slides. Presentations range in topics from abortion, marriage, and secular humanism to evolution and entertainment.

The benchmark is an aggregate of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the assignment.

Result: The benchmark was met by student aggregate scores in five of six sections of the course offerings between Fall of 2019 and Spring 2022, which represents a completion rate of 83.3%. The 83.3% average is greater than the minimum 75% College benchmark; therefore, this benchmark measure is deemed met.

Measure #5: Supporting Bible/Theology Course Results

Several biblical courses have been identified that help support the student's understanding and knowledge of biblical values. Previously, the EC Faculty mapped courses to program learning outcomes (PLOs) classified as introductory, developing, or advanced. Aggregate results and final average scores that support PLO 1 from Fall 2019 to Spring 2022 are reported in Table 1-5. Case Studies, worksheets, discussion forums, essays, powerpoint presentations, research and written papers, team collaboration, and individual presentations are just some examples of student artifacts required.

The benchmark established is for students to earn an aggregate score of 75% or higher in this assessment cycle.

Program Learning Objective 2: Demonstrating Collaboration

Ecclesia College graduates will demonstrate collaboration within the academic environment with regard to communication, critical thinking, analysis, application, and decision-making.

Instrument Measures: STDV 1110 Alpha Seminar (AS) course used in a variety of measurements of student learning: (1) AS Written Autobiography & Oral Presentation; (2) AS Character Traits, Personality Profile & Communication Style; (3) AS Personal Goals & Review/Modification of Goals; (4) AS Three Periodic Progress Reports/Updates.

The Alpha Seminar (AS) course equips students in a practical way to be successful as they transition to college life academically, spiritually and socially. Students are introduced to the distinctives of Ecclesia College in light of its educational philosophy as they learn to synthesize their classroom studies, integrating them into life lessons. The course is required of all incoming freshmen and transfer students with less than 27 semester hours.

Students complete a written autobiography and orally present to their peers as a way of communicating their shared and unique life experiences. Students evaluate and discuss their individual personality and communication styles, as well as specific character traits. Identification and self-evaluation of strengths and weaknesses lead to the formulation of personal goals in the areas of family, friends, work, school, spiritual life, body, and mental health. Application of those personal goals into daily living is reflected in the decisions which become the habits formed over the course of the semester as evidenced in each student's progress reports/updates.

Measure #1: AS Autobiography & Oral Presentation

Students complete a written autobiography and orally present key points to their peers in a small group setting as a way of communicating and recording both shared and unique life experiences.

The benchmark is 80% of students earning 75% or higher collectively for both assignments.

Table 2-1: AS Written Autobiography & Oral Presentation

Result: The benchmark was met by a collective average number of 150 students completing this measure with an average score of 92.2%.

Measure #2: AS Character Traits, Personality Profile & Communication Style

Students complete a variety of individual assessments regarding character traits, personality profiles, and communication styles and analyze the impact of each in their daily lives and decision-making.

The benchmark is 80% of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the combined assignments.

Table 2-2: AS Character Traits, Personality Profile & Communication Style

Result: The benchmark was met by a collective number of 114 students completing this measure with an average score of 88.8%.

Measure #3: AS Personal Goals and Review/Modification of Goals

Identification and self-evaluation of strengths and weaknesses lead to student formulation of personal goals in the areas of family, friends, work, school, spiritual life, body, and mental health. Personal goals are written, then later evaluated and modified by the student as needed.

The benchmark is 80% of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the combined assignments.

Result: The benchmark was met by a collective number of 114 students completing this measure with an average score of 88.9%.

Measure #4: AS Three Periodic Progress Reports/Updates

Students are asked to write personal goals in the areas of family, friends, work, school, spiritual life, body, and mental health. Application of those personal goals into daily living is reflected in the decisions which become the habits formed over the course of the semester as evidenced in each student's periodic progress reports/updates (three in total).

The benchmark is 80% of students earning 75% or higher collectively for the combined assignments.
